President's Message

Wow, what a wild and busy time in my household! Halloween, goblins and stuff and then Thanksgiving just around the corner, our Annual Show in three weeks, and then Christmas. In the meantime, a toys workshop at the Kellys' shop (and what a shop), a spraying party at Harold Hall's shop (flag boxes) and then our annual show. This is all fun to me. (If I'm not doing this I'd be doing something else).

The Toy Workshop was special. Nelda and Buzz were outstanding hosts. Not only did they have patterns laid out, but all materials were ready to start building toys. Then we were greeted with sausage and biscuits and other stuff and I understand even better vittles later in the day.

The spraying party at Harold's shop should be fun and educational since this guy is really good!! A great big thanks to Jim Anchors for his outstanding devotion to the flag box project. This is truly a worthwhile project and the families of the "911" victims will be forever grateful. Thanks Jim.

The Annual Show is just around the corner and I hope you folks are working hard on that project for display. This is a fun event and an opportunity to see what your fellow woodworker is doing in his shop all those hours. My first time to display a piece was quite nerve wracking, but it turned out to be one of the most rewarding things I had ever done (I was a winner, not with a ribbon, but in the fact that I did it!) So join in the fun and you, too, will be a winner.

Toy Day November 16th

This meeting is the culmination of our year long efforts. All those toys we have been making all year will be brought in, counted, displayed, and then given to the representatives of our chosen charities. With all the excitement with the toys and all, this is a great time to bring spouses, children, and guests.

the annual Guild juried show which will begin the next day.

Come on out and enjoy the day with us and don't forget your toys!

There will be a little business discussed as this is when we elect our officers for the coming year. We will also be signing up volunteers to work
